“Magdeburg from an International Perspective”
“A sweet dream of a romantic introvert”

“Calmness….it is so important for me. Inspiration…I cannot do anything without it. Nature…it is my healing friend… You will find everything if you just stop and allow Magdeburg to hug you with its beauty…Magdeburg…where Past, Present, and Future live in harmony and peace.

Daria Sira, IMME student, Ukraine

Place: Next to the Magdalenenkapelle
Date: March 1\textsuperscript{st}, 2020
“I am sure… all students in Magdeburg feel like this... You get bored sometimes and you wish to be in a noisy, busy city. But in Magdeburg you are close to nature. In Magdeburg: birds are singing loud that cars can`t diminish, you get lost in parks, may spend hours exploring the beauty of trees, bushes, flowers, animals invite you to their world, wild rabbits watch you on your way, and a tiny ladybug slows you down to say “Hello” … In Magdeburg you are close to nature and you come home - full of energy and inspiration. Ready to start a new day.”

“Mysterious“

“No matter how long people may live in Magdeburg, walking at the riverside in the morning, afternoon or evening is an ultimate experience. Every time Magdeburg shows a new shade and side of its beauty. One of them is its mystery. Every single stone of the cathedral and its surroundings reminds me of the rich cultural past of this city - Magdeburg.”

“Never ending reconstruction”

“I could use the tram only a year. Then, the big reconstruction of the tram track started. It became incredibly uncomfortable to travel with luggage. I wish this did not take so many years. Last summer, the Breiter Weg was closed and my way to the exam hall took me around 50 minutes instead of 15. This time, I was taking pictures and I noticed that the Cathedral is under reconstruction. It was barely impossible to capture its beauty.”

“Triumph of lines colors“

“I grew up in a country where everybody cares only about his/her flat… I love Magdeburg and I feel deep respect for its inhabitants for caring about things that are not directly yours. I am inspired by how important it is for them to clean and care so that the city is always in the best shape. Freshly painted, clean, and great. Magdeburg, you are beautiful!

"Everywhere in Magdeburg, you can find rows of identical blocks, houses without personality, but there are little, wonderful exceptions. Some marvelous buildings, diamonds of the history, managed to survive the cruelty and bombs. They still reveal the beauty of the past."
