- 4) Up to 10 CP can be credited for the language proficiency test in German at least at B2 level, for the UNiCert III or IV language proficiency test in English, or for a language proficiency test in another foreign language.

The Study-ABC (IV)

- Seminars [§ 9 para. 4 SER]:
  - “Seminars are used for teachers and students to scientifically appraise theoretical and practical issues collaboratively. This can be in a variety of different ways of working (provision of information, presentations, development of theses, discussions) and in groups, whilst ensuring that each student’s individual performance is assessed. Seminars generally require collaboration by the students, at least in the form of presentations in accordance with § 14 para. 9 [SER] and term papers in accordance with § 14 para. 7 [SER].”

The Study-ABC (V)

- Scientific Projects [§9 para. 5 SER]
  - Scientific projects help the students to demonstrate that they are capable of working independently. Depending on the stipulations of the module, the project is either worked on individually or in teams (team/group project with individual assessment).
